

SUMMER ROADTRIP CHECKLIST

A list of steps that you can take to make your summer travels more hassle-free and enjoyable, while saving you money and helping the environment

Saving gas saves you money and helps the environment

- Refuel when it's cool
- Don't top off your tank, stop at the click
- Don't let your car idle
- Don't sit in traffic. Travel at times other than rush hour, if possible
- Avoid lines at drive-thru restaurants, pharmacies, and banks
- Avoid abrupt starts and stops
- Try sharing a ride or taking public transportation when you can

Treat your car well and it will take care of you and the air

- Keep your tires inflated to the recommended level
- Get regular tune-ups
- Make sure your gas cap closes tightly—replace if it's old
- Keep your air filter clean
- Change the oil regularly, as recommended in your owner's manual
- Make sure your car's catalytic converter is hooked up and working properly

It all adds up to cleaner air
